

THE SOUTH AUSTRALIAN COMMUNITY VISITOR SCHEME

The Community Visitor Scheme plays an important role in ensuring that care within facilities across South Australia meet specific Standards.

OBJECTIVES

The core objectives of the Community Visitor Scheme are to

- » Advocate for the rights of patients/residents within mental health and disability facilities;
- » Improve patient/resident experiences;
- » Identify possible gaps in service provision for patients/residents;
- » Increase accountability and transparency within mental health and disability service provision;
- » Assist with the resolution of complaints filed by patients/residents;
- » Provide a vital link between frontline service delivery and policy and service development;
- » Ensure the consistent delivery of best-practice services; and
- » Improve overall health and well-being outcomes for patients/residents.

REPORTING AFTER A VISIT

Following a visit and inspection, informal verbal feedback about any issues or matters of concern raised during the visit will be provided to the senior staff at the facility. A formal written report for the Principal Community Visitor (PCV) is also prepared on each visit.

Facilities are expected to make every effort to promptly address any issues raised. If an issue cannot be resolved at the facility level, the PCV may escalate the matter to senior management of the service or an appropriate body for resolution.

If the PCV has reason to believe that an offence has been/is being committed at a facility, the PCV must inform the appropriate authorities immediately.

WHAT DOES THE COMMUNITY VISITOR SCHEME DO?

The Community Visitor Scheme recruits volunteers to become independent Community Visitors who are appointed by the Governor and undertake visits and inspections of facilities to ensure

- » that patients/residents are being treated with dignity and respect;
- » that services are responsive and appropriate to patients/residents needs; and
- » that patients/residents have been provided with information about their care and support.

If issues are raised by patients/residents, the Community Visitor Scheme can provide advocacy and attempt to resolve these issues with staff or management. Where necessary, the Community Visitor Scheme can refer any matters of concern to other external bodies for resolution.

WHERE DOES THE COMMUNITY VISITOR SCHEME VISIT?

The Community Visitor Scheme visits and inspects

- » Mental health treatment centres;
- » Emergency departments of hospitals;
- » Disability accommodation services; and
- » Supported Residential Facilities.

Regular visits are conducted to these facilities &/or anyone can contact the Community Visitor Scheme to request a visit or advocacy support.

WHAT IS THE COMMUNITY VISITOR SCHEME?

The Community Visitor Scheme is an independent statutory body, reporting to the Minister for Mental Health and Substance Abuse on matters related to the scheme's functions under the Mental Health Act 2009 and to the Minister for Disability on matters related to the scheme's functions under the Disability Services (Community Visitor Scheme) Regulations 2013.

The purpose of the Community Visitor Scheme is to further protect the rights of people with a mental illness who are admitted to mental health treatment centres and people with a disability who live in disability accommodation or Supported Residential Facilities (hereafter referred to as "facilities").

The independence of the Community Visitor Scheme is integral to the program, enabling patients/residents, carers and family members to speak with individuals who are not associated with the provision of support.

WHO IS THE PRINCIPAL COMMUNITY VISITOR?

The Principal Community Visitor (PCV) is a statutory officer, appointed by the Governor of South Australia and reports directly to the Minister for Mental Health and Substance Abuse on matters relating to mental health service provision and the Minister for Disability on matters relating to disability service provision.

The PCV is responsible for

- » overseeing, advising and assisting Community Visitors in their role;
- » reporting on matters of concern regarding the care and treatment of patients/residents;
- » assisting with the resolution of issues relating to the care, safety and wellbeing of patients/residents; and
- » conducting visits and inspections of facilities.
